Three years ago I presented before this Society the outline of a scheme for a system of artificial teeth, and a plea for a new order of things in dental prosthesis. I had but little material evidence to lay before you in support of the contentions advanced, for that was impossible. But I had something in the nature of a vision, in which I saw an important branch of our professional service redeemed from the low and almost contemptible position it has long remained in. Something of that vision I must have been able to get before you, for the substance of it met with your unqualified approval and you passed a strongly worded resolution giving official expression to that approval and asking the manufacturers to take up the work I had outlined and proceed with it along the lines I had formulated. Such an undertaking, at that time, must have...
